ket opened excited, with May selling at $1 04% to $1 05% the first few minutes, after which that future was neglected, and the tip was out to take July. While the deferred futures were being picked up freely, the shorts' scare again broke out in May. The price had eased off to $1 04%, and started up with a rush which ended at $1 67%. June sold at 98%c to $1 00, and July at 85% to 90%. Following the bulge there was big selling of May.

The clique houses are closely watched, and no heavy selling was traced directly, but there seemed no doubt that Fairbank wheat went out above 107 quite freely. At the same time

BUILDING PROSPECTS ON A GRAND SCALE

Added Within Three Years.

The spring season limbers the joints of the granger and makes him think about doing something. Weary of the winter torpor, he surveys his well-filled barns, exnmines his haymows, makes an estimate of the daily egg product of his chickens, looks over his apples, potatoes and cabbages, and casts longing glances toward the city where such things are wanted at good prices in hard cash. This means a revival of the country trade so soon as the roads get into good condition, which, if the weather continue as it has begun, will not be long. Bad roads cut him off from the market nearly all winter, and he has plenty of stuff to sell, Engineer Davis says the worst roads in the over his apples, potatoes and cabbages, and winter, and he has plenty of stuff to sell. Engineer Davis says the worst roads in the State are in Allegheny county, and he is about right. A new deal in their management is one of the necessities of the times.

That spring is opening is shown in the large and rapid increase in the number of new houses that are going up and in the large number projected. Permits for 76 were issued the past week, at an estimated cost of $85,928. It is safe to say that within the past three years 6,000 houses, mostly for residence pur-poses, have been built in Pittsburg and immediste vicinity. These are all occupied and the demand is not satisfied. Allowing five persons to each house, a moderate estimate, we find an increase of 30,000 inhabitants within the period mentioned. The growth of the city will be much greater this year. The syndicate, of which Messrs. Flinn, Stewart and Magee are members, will start in the Nineteenth ward this year with 50 houses. They will probably erect 300 before they are done. Another enter-prise is by an Aliegheny gentleman, who proposes to put up 100 houses on Penn avenue, near Winebiddle, during the season. These will be cheap and will rent at a low price. This will materially reduce the pressure for small Pittsburg women hold their own with the sterner sex in business affairs. Scores of them are engaged in mercantile pursuits, where, in many cases, large interests are involved, and are doing well. An enterprising, energetic lady, who occupies an office on Fourth avenue, is making money as a solicitor for an Eastern stationery house. Several ladies support them-selves by speculating in oil and stocks, and are often seen flitting around the Exchange build-ing. They are generally on the bear side.

There is a silly rumor affoat to the effect that the Mutual Life Insurance Company is dicker-ing for the purchase of the postoffice corner. This property cannot be sold until Congress ses an enabling act, and then the sale must be by public outcry. Its value as a business site will insure a lively competition for its possession, in which the largest purse will obt the prize. The report that certain individual have an option on it, or that it has been offer to them on any terms, is, therefore, without

The Clearing House figures for the pr week show a large gain over those for the sat time last year, which broke all previo records. Should the present ratio of gain maintained, to say nothing of a probable crease, 1880 will put Pittsburg fifth or six among the great commercial centers. It is already outstripped Cincinnati, and is crow-ing Baltimore very closely.

One of the best moderate-sized house Wilkinsburg was sold a day or two ago for $4,200 and refused. This sale proves two things: That Wilkinsburg property is that delays are dangerous.

A good evidence of the business growth of as before they did business wherever they could find desk room. This consolidation of interests cannot but be beneficial to the public.

The Ross farm, near Sharpsburg, the sale of which was noted in this department yesterday, will be laid out in 200 acre lots, and put on the market in a short time. One of the principal movers in this enterprise is a well-known county official, whose business qualifications were well known before he went into politics.

A GOOD DAY FOR STOCKS.

Westinghouse Electric Crosses the Sixty Line-Gassers Strong and Higher. The feature of the stock market yesterday was a further advance in Westinghouse Electric. It closed rather weak on Friday, and at a slight recession from the highest price of the day, mainly for the reason that the price had passed the limit prescribed by the orders for the stock, but yesterday the brokers seemed to have practially unlimited power, and they sailed in with such vigor as to boom the stock to an altitude that confounded all previous calculations. The first sale was made at 5934. This set the ball rolling, and the quotation continued to climb skyward until 60% was reached -a gain of a dollar a share. Over 700 shares changed hands, the most going East where country of the limits of brokers' orders. Bids and offers: BANK STOCKS. Bid. Asked.

FUN IN OIL.

Irrepressible Brokers Make the Most of a Dull Day. The oil market was rather tame yesterday, business lacking animation, and prices moving within very narrow limits. This gave the boys opportunity to indulge their fun-loving pro-clivities, and they wound up the session with a sort of song and dance that was an agreeable diversion from the monotony of the regular diversion from the monotony of the regular proceedings. The market opened at 91%c, hied around that figure for some time, and then gradually sold up to 93%c. It then slumped and closed at 93%c. Oil was loaned at 15 cents to flat, showing no particular scarcity. Puts and calls traded on narrow margins, from %c to %c. The bearish character of the New York bank statement had a more or less depressing effect upon the market. Fifteen minutes after the close 25 cents was hid to have oil carried. While the situation at home and abroad is undepiably bullish, the action of the power behind the throne is too uncertain to justify the prediction of an advance, and the result probably will be that prices will hang around the present level for some time to come. A material slump under existing circumstances seems to be the outcome of the question.

A NEW DEAL.

The Bulls Capture Wall Street and Demoralize the Stock Market-Recent Gains Partly Lost-Railroad Bonds Dull and Lower.

NEW YORK, March 23.-The stock market to

New York, March 23.—The stock market to-day was an extremely limited affair, and outside of the movements in three or four stocks the dealings were entirely devoid of interest. The trading, as usual of late, was confined for head. Market dull at vesterday's prices. the most part to the scalping operations of the traders, and as the duliness invited a turn upon the short side prices were sagged off slowly, with insignificant fluctuations in all excep-Chicago Gas, Burlington, Chesapeake and Ohio first and Pullman, the range of prices in no other stock reaching as much as % per cent. Chicago had some selling orders in the market, and London bought a few of its specialties, bu the operations of the traders kept the market in a feverish state throughout. The general expectation of an unfavorable bank statement the operations of the traders kept the market in a feverash state throughout. The general expectation of an unfavorable bank statement aided in depreciating prices, and the announcement of a loss in reserve of over a million and a quarter proved to have been fully discounted. First prices were fairly steady as compared with those of last evening, and some strength was shown for a short time in the early trading, when everything but Burlington was carried up above the opening figures. The decline soon began, however, and Chicago Gas and Burlington took the lead, each losing a point. Pullman was the only atrong feature of the list. There was a better tone toward the end of the session, but the market closed dull and heavy generally at slight fractional losses. Closing prices are irregular but generally lower, and while Pullman rose 1%, Chesapeake and Ohlo first preferred lost 1% and Chicago Gas and Burlington 1% per cent each.

The dealings in railroad bonds were on a parallel with those in shares, being small and dévoid of feature for most of the issues dealt in. The sales reached only $450,000. The issues of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company were the weak spot in the list, but although the general tone of the market was firm, the majority of the important changes are in the direction of lower prices. The losses include Tennessee Coal. Tennessee division & 2, at %. The sales for the week were $7,403,000, against $6,507,000 for last week.

Alleged to Have Been Counted. J. S. Power, Justice of the Peace of Turtle Creek, Patton township, yesterday filed his answer to the allegations of William Haymaker, his opponent for the position. At the last election Power received 154 votes and Haymaker 152, and Power was declared elected. Haymaker presented a petition in court, alleging that, by rights, he was elected, a number of illegal votes having been cast for Power, which would give Haymaker the majority.

Power, in his answer, asserts that the votes cast for him alleged to have been illegal were not so, but the persons were qualified voters. Instead, he claims the following named persons Instead, he claims the following named persons voted fraudulently and illegally for Haymaker: Robert Wilson, Joseph Cashdollar, William J. Sang, J. S. Gillbrook, George Drake, Daniel Cashdollar, August Krep, J. B. McIntyre, John Golightly, James Baughman, Ananias Wilson, E. Craig, James Graham, William McCully and others. He asks that Haynaker's petition be dismissed.

Power has been Justice of the Peace for 15 years.

Alleged Conspiracy to Bankrupt and Beat the Plaintiff in Business. John N.McFall yesterday entered suit against John N. Garrison, implicated with W. W. Barr, John A. Hetzel, William A. Hetzel and G. B. Garrison, for $10,000 Hetzel and G. B. Garrison, for $10,000 damages. McFall alleges that in 1887 John N. Garrison, with W. A. Hetzel and G. B. Garrison, conspired to defraud and bankrupt him and gain possession of his property.

He was then engaged in the business of manufacturing boxes, doors, sashes, etc., with Hetzel and G. B. Garrison for partners, and John N. Garrison persuaded Hetzel and Garrison to confess judgments of the firm to him. No money was due him, but executions were issued and a levy made on McFall's property by the Sheriff. At the sale it was bought by John N. Garrison for the purpose of dissolving the partnership and ousting McFall, that Garrison and the others might take charge of the concern. Griscom for voluntary and involuntary manslaughter, which graw out of involuntary mansiaughter, which grew out of the killing of two boys on a fire escape at the Monongahela House. The motion to quash was granted on the grounds that the verdict of the Coroner's jury, upon which the indictment was found, would not support a charge of mansiaughter. This does not affect the indictment against H. Wilson, the owner of the fire escape upon which the boys were killed.

A DECREE was made in the Coroner's Jury and the fire escape upon which the boys were killed.

Two Men Injured at the Trial Test of the New Amoskeng Engine.

Two Fine New Steamships.

The Hamburg-American Steamship Company are looking forward to increased traffic this summer when the two new steamships of the line, the Augusta-Victoria and the Columbia, will be in service. Both of these vessels have a length of 463 feet, a width of 56 feet, a depth of 38 feet, are of 10,000 tons displacement and 12,500 horse power. It is claimed for them that they are practically unsinkable, their great feature being a longitudinal bulkhead, running from stem to stern, which divides the ship, each side being provided with a separate set of machinery, bollers, shafts and screws. An accident to one side of the ship, therefore, would not in any way affect the other. The speed of these steamers is guaranteed to exceed 19 knots, or 21% miles, per hour. The staterooms are all of large size. The best cooks have been engaged. The conveniences offered in the second catin are unsurpassed. The lirst trip of the Augusta-Victoria will be made from Hamburg May 2, and from New York to Southampton and Hamburg on May 16, 1859. The new Amoskeag engine No. 2 was tested yesterday afternoon on the Monongahela wharf. It took eight minutes with cold water to raise 30 pounds of steam. Ar inch and three-quarter nozzle was used. In addition to an 140-pound water pressure the firemen claim the engine threw the water 351 feet but the bulk fell at 300 feet. A MULTITUDINOUS array of patterns and colorings in fine French challis, beautiful styles, dark and light colors, large and small figures, 50c a yard. The spark from the engine ignited natural gas in a manhole under the engine. The men at the nozzle hearing the explosion dropped it, when it was thrown around and struck Captain Mike Hennigan and Hose-man Charles Hart. They were taken to the Homeopathic Hospital. Neither of were seriously hurt. Park Painter's Son Badly Hurt.

Kenneth G. Painter, a young son of Park Painter, of Ridge avenue, Allegheny, was seriously injured on Friday evening. Young Painter, Jay Phipps and Charles Scaife were riding on their ponies in Woods' Run when some boys threw stones at them. The pony young Painter was riding became trightened and threw him off. He fell, striking his head on a piece of iron, causing concussion of the brain. The attending physicians have but slight hopes of his re Its Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Philadelphia Gas Company will be held in the new building on May 6. Some interesting business will be transacted.

Attracting Much Attention. George Harper, the Allentown man who sent a bullet through his head, is still alive and may recover. His case is attracting much attention among physicians.

In need of Household Furnishing Goods of any description that he is in a position to save them money. How so? Because we sell goods at a lower price than same quality of goods can be bought elsewhere for. You must not forget that where the would-be large houses pay anywhere from $5,000 to $10,000 rent, we pay but a moderate $1,600, although our store is as large (if not larger) as the largest, while we know that our goods are the best-our prices the lowest. It is a great deal easier to save money by judicious buying than it is to save it out of your weekly or monthly wages.
